Fifty Billion Dollars Involved in U. S. Decision

GREATEST ACTION IN HISTORY GOES TO HIGHEST COURT

All Railroad Valuation,
All Property for Public

LITTLE RAILROAD RAISES BIG ISSUE

St. Louis-O'Fallon Line
Case Draws All Systems
to Bar; Distinguished Counsel Retained.

BY BASIL MANLY.

Washington, January 1.—The supreme court of the United States today begins the hearing of what a member of the interstate commerce commission calls "the greatest lawsuit in history"—a case involving not only the valuation of all the railroads in the United States and indirectly all public utilities but also touching the fundamental rights of all property which may in future be devoted to the public service. Fifty billion dollars is a modest estimate of the property values affected.

This case directly concerns only an insignificant little Missouri railroad—the St. Louis and O'Fallon. It is only nine miles long and could probably be bought for less than the aggregate lawyers' fees that will be expended in this case. The specific question involved is whether the interstate commerce commission has the right under the transportation act to "recapture" the sum of $226,880.06, representing one-half of the excess above 6 per cent earned by this particular railroad during the four years, 1925-1928.

Value Beyond Comprehension.
And yet this case is admitted by the distinguished counsel who will appear before the court to be one which will determine the principles to be applied in the valuation of every railroad in the United States as well as every street railway, gas company, electric light company and every other public utility which may conceivably have its rates determined upon the findings of the supreme court in this case.

In addition the decision in this case will determine how the value of every form of property which may in future be devoted to the public use by condemnation, proceedings or through rate regulation is to be decided. There is no exact method of determining values in dollars and cents the property values involved in this case. They run into the billions and are far beyond the comprehension of the human intelligence.

We may secure some idea of the tremendous issues involved by considering a few facts and figures. The method of valuation used by the interstate commerce commission in the O'Fallon case, and which it proposes to apply to all the railroads of the country, consists in assessing the value of all property which the roads owned in 1914 according to the prices of that date and adding the true cost of all extensions, additions and betterments that have been made since that time. This, the commission declares in its report, is a close approximation of the amount actually invested in the property.

Difference Enormous.
The railroads, on the contrary, contend that the valuation that should be placed upon their property is the amount that would be necessary to reproduce it at present prices of labor, materials and land.

The difference between these two plans of valuation when applied to all the railroads is enormous. The commission's plan, it is estimated, would produce an aggregate value of about 25 billion dollars for all the railroads. The railroad plan, according to responsible financial journals, would practically double that value.

This estimate is corroborated by recent appeals filed against the commission's valuations of individual roads. During the past week, for example, the Southern Pacific has filed a brief claiming that the value fixed by the commission of $613,000,000 is unjust and unreasonable and should be increased to $1,375,000,000. In addition to the differences arising from the application of divergent theories of valuation, the railroad demands an allowance of $55,000,000 for "going concern" value.

In the case of the railroads alone there is, therefore, something like 25 billion dollars at stake in the decision of this case.

Affects All Utilities.
But what the supreme court does in this case will affect not only the railroads but every other public utility. State commissions and state courts alike will have to bow to the findings of this great tribunal in fixing telephone tolls, street car fares

CORONER'S JURY ABSOLVES GREEN

Shots That Killed Wilkinson Fired in Self-Defense, Verdict; Boykin
To Review Record.

Solicitor General John A. Boykin will review the record of the findings of the coroner's jury, which Tuesday returned a verdict of "justifiable homicide" in the death of B. Taylor Wilkinson, prominent Atlanta insurance man, and which declared that C. Graham Green, secretary and treasurer of the United States Bond and Mortgage company of Georgia, fired the shots in self-defense.

Mr. Boykin declared that unless his investigation reveals additional data which might indicate that the shooting was not done in self-defense the state will file no charges against Green, who lay Tuesday at the Georgia Baptist hospital with a wound in his side and a bullet from the .22 caliber revolver imbedded against his vertebrae.

Doctors declared Green will recover unless complications set in. Wilkinson was fatally wounded when three bullets from the pistol found their mark in a battle over the gun which he is alleged to have had with Green in the latter's office at the Hurt building. Green was wounded in the melee.

Witnesses Are Heard.
Half a dozen witnesses gave versions of the affair when they testified at the inquest held by Coroner Paul Donehue at Spang Hill, the Patterson mortuary.

Verdict of the jury follows: "We find that the deceased, B. T. Wilkinson, came to his death from bullet wounds of the body inflicted by Graham Green. We further find that said wounds were inflicted in self-defense and that they constitute justifiable homicide."

Findings of the jury are in conflict with the statement made Monday by Green, who declared that Wilkinson shot him and then turned the pistol on himself. No evidence was adduced at the hearing which indicated that Green actually pulled the trigger which sent the death-dealing missiles into Wilkinson. Neither was there any identification of the pistol. All witnesses declared they could not identify its owner.

Immediately following the inquest funeral services were conducted for Wilkinson from the Patterson mortuary. The Rev. Robert Z. Tyler, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, in which Wilkinson taught a Sunday school class, assisted by the Rev. J. L. Jackson, pastor of the Kirkwood Baptist church, conducted the funeral services. Interment was at West View cemetery.

Above are two scenes taken Tuesday in Rose Bowl when Georgia Tech conquered the California Bear, 8 to 7. Upper right is an unusual photograph showing the Tornado scoring its first two points on a safety following Roy Riegels' (upper right) mad dash of 66 yards for his own goal after picking up a fumble by Thomason. The picture shows Maree, Tech tackle, breaking through the line with arms thrown high to block Lom's kick, from behind the line. The ball, just leaving Lom's toe, was batted down by Maree and covered by Barr, California halfback, for a safety. Waddey, right end for the Jackets, is shown between Maree and Lom. PRESIDENT ENDS VISIT TO GEORGIA

Sapelo Island, Ga., January 1.—(AP)—His mid-winter vacation on the sea islands of Georgia at an end, President Coolidge tonight was on his way back to the national capital.

New Year's day was spent quietly on Sapelo island, where the chief executive and Mrs. Coolidge were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Coffin. In preparation for an overnight railroad journey, the president decided not to attempt anything of a strenuous nature. The hunting trails were abandoned and the chief execu-

BY DICK HAWKINS.

Rose Bowl, Pasadena, Calif., January 1.—(Special.)—"NATIONAL CHAMPIONS." All Dixie is rolling those words around its mouth like a pickaninny rolls a stalk of sugar cane.

Georgia Tech's Golden Tornado, called "fragile" and smaller than their opponents, fought the Golden Bears of California like they have never been fought before and won a football game, 8-7.

That is the story without any of its thrills.

To tell all those thrills would take a Webster, a Dickens and a Service all rolled into one. Some people would call that game sloppy. There were fumbles and there were queer plays till Hades wouldn't have it, but, after all, the score is the thing that counts. Tomorrow the score will be the only part of that game left to memory.

Riegels' Is Goal.

Roy Riegels, captain-elect for next year, is a red hot boy tonight. He did what you read about in books and seldom see when he recovered a fumble and raced 66 yards toward his own goal before he discovered his mistake. Just after that, Big Vance Maree, one of Tech's "fragile" line-men, smashed through and blocked a punt which was covered by Barr for a safety. This furnished the deciding score of the game and some will call it luck for Tech. Luck, dear readers, is that which happens outside the agency of man. The fact that Mr. Riegels was beaten to the point where he didn't know where his own goal was is not a matter of luck in a matter of football fight. By the same token the numerous fumbles by Tech ball carriers were not luck for California, they were the result of savage tackling by California's fighting Bears. Let us hear no more talk of luck and what might have been. The Tornado of Tech was victorious in this greatest of all classics on the gridiron and their victory was earned.

Each Scores Once.

Each team scored a touchdown by good football and both threw away other chances to score, but the game is over and these lost chances will be forgotten with the influence of time and the score will stand out like a light house on a rock-bound coast.

It was a game of heart-breaking failures and pulse-pounding success for the followers of both teams. Four times the Tornado knocked at the door of the Bears and just once it gained admittance. This came after the Gold and White was forced to haul down its colors on the one-yard line and Benny Lom punted out to the 45-yard stripe. The Jackets were peevish about that reverse and they called on Warner Mizell to rectify the mistake. He did. He raced 30 yards outside the right end before he was forced out of bounds by tacklers. Then on the next play, the little giant, Thomason, bounded his way off left tackle for 15 yards and a touchdown. He failed to kick goal, and the count was 8-0.

From that time forward the Tornado placed its power on Leash. Warner Mizell, all-American halfback, was punting on the second and third down and Tech never tried a punt until the game was over. The players were

DRY HEADS MAY RAISE RUM QUOTA FOR FLU

Enough Whisky Will Be Available for Epidemic, Officials Declare.

Washington, January 1.—(United News.)—Prohibition officials are certain there will be ample whisky available for medicinal purposes in the present influenza epidemic.

Instructions have been issued to local administrators to issue extra quotas of prescription blanks to physicians above the 100 a quarter now allowed if necessary.

One official indicated issuance of more than one pint per patient every 10 days would be overlooked during the emergency.

Prohibition Commissioner Doran said, however, there was no legal way for a physician to prescribe more than the legal amount of one pint.

Asked whether a technical violation of the law would be overlooked during the emergency, Doran replied, "We will cross that bridge when we come to it, but we cannot agree upon no sanction violations."

Negro Attendant At Mercer Saved By Pupil's Blood

Macon, Ga., January 1.—(P)—Lee Battle, negro dining hall attendant at Mercer university and friend of every graduate of the university for many years, left the Macon hospital today, thanks to Fred Shaw, of Tifton, Ga., a white student who gave him blood for transfusion operations.

When Lee was taken to the hospital the doctors announced that the negro needed blood at once. Numbers of students offered their blood, but only one, that of Shaw, matched the negro's so that it could be accepted.

Lee is not entirely well, but he was able to go back to the college campus, to the scenes familiar and dear to him.

The authority to make changes to permit more than one pint in 10 days, but the discretion of local administrators is ample to provide whisky for emergency use during the epidemic.

First reports of new influenza cases for the week ending December 29 indicated an approximate gain of 100 per cent over the previous week, the United States public health service announced.

'ARMY' HEAD TOO ILL TO SEE EVANGELINE

Mrs. William B. Ramwell Booth Fears Excitement of Visit.

London, January 1.—(P)—Evangeline Booth, commander of the Salvation Army in the United States, today received a letter from Mrs. William B. Ramwell Booth saying that it would be impossible for the American leader to see the sick commander-in-chief of the army for the present, because it was feared he could not stand the excitement. Mrs. Booth expressed regret at having to deny her sister-in-law's request.

An official of Miss Booth's party also told the Associated Press that Commissioner Catherine Booth, daughter of the general, left the army's international headquarters last evening without attempting to see her aunt, although both were in the building at the time. It was stated that Commander Eva sent a note to her niece asking to see her, but the latter replied that it was impossible for her to do so at the moment. Later she departed without further communication.

This same official said that his chief could not obtain any definite information respecting the real condition of General Bramwell Booth at the international headquarters. He said the staff there seemed as much in the dark concerning the health of their commander-in-chief as was Miss Booth.

The latter spent the entire evening at the headquarters and watched the old year out there. She remained until 1 o'clock in the morning, meeting junior officers and members of the rank and file of the army, whose opinions respecting the future of the organization she is trying to learn before entering the meeting of the high council one week hence. Despite her late hours she was up betimes today and by 9 a. m. was receiving more visitors at her hotel suite.

Commissioners Gifford and Peart of the American party journeyed to Southampton to meet the four delegates from South America who arrived today.

$240,000 FOR AIRPORT IS URGED BY HANSELL

Chief of Construction Recommends That Field Be Improved at Once.

Immediate expenditure of $240,000 in improvement of Candler field, Atlanta's airport, in order to make it a genuine class A airport, and establishment of a separate department for its operation and maintenance after the program has been completed, was recommended Tuesday by Chief of Construction William A. Hansell in a report submitted to William R. Harris, field chairman of the aviation committee of city council.

The $240,000 figure is exclusive of the $100,000 which must be expended by the city in purchase of the property. If the program as outlined by Mr. Hansell is carried out, there will be a 3,800-foot runway in the direction of the prevailing winds, northwest and southeast, and a 2,700 east and west and north and south.

Text of Report.

Complete text of the report follows: "Hon. W. R. Harris, Chairman of Aviation Committee, City Hall, City.

"Dear Sir: I submit herewith my recommendation for the development of Candler air field.

"The area of the field should be increased as shown by the plan attached, giving a runway N. W. S. E. 3,800 feet long in the direction of the prevailing wind and about 3,100 feet long, N. E. S. W. with the minimum runway of 2,700 feet east and west and north and south. This plan provides plenty of space for increased number of hangars in the present east from the proposed extension of the new field to the west. The grade of the new field would be reduced from the present maximum of 2 per cent to a maximum of 1-1/2 per cent N. E. S. W. and the N. W. S. E. grade would be reduced to 1 per cent.

"If this plan is made of concrete it should be laid in sections, and if less than five inches thick after vibrating, it should be reinforced.

More Water Urged.

"The water supply should be increased so as to give fire protection to the hangars and the present two-inch connection with College Park should be increased to six inches or six-inch pipe connected to the water system of the city of Hapeville.

"The sewer from present hangar discharges into a culvert under the old race track and this should be extended and connected to the Hapeville sewer system or small individual plant built.

"The changing of the lines of the field would, of course, necessitate the construction of new boundary light lines to conform to the new area, and some additional lighting arrangement will have to be made in order to light the additional space north and west of the present field.

"The estimated cost of this work is:

For grading $150,000
For apron 75,000
For sewer 5,000
For lights 5,000
For water 5,000

"This makes a total of $240,000 in addition to the $100,000 for the purchase of the field.

Development of Park.

"The design contemplates the development of a park between the air field and the Virginia avenue front, with athletic fields, swimming pools, etc. This would be in addition to that heretofore mentioned, and none of that expense is included in this estimate.

"I think that as soon as the field is constructed its management should be independent of the construction department and the manager and such force as is necessary to keep the field up, should be provided for this purpose, but until the construction is completed I think the work can be more economically done by the construction department in view of the fact that in many cases prison labor can be used to advantage.

"The present force consists of a superintendent at a salary of $1,800; a team and three laborers at an expense of $3,000. The present lighting cost, about $5,000 per year, the water about $100 per year, the city of College Park giving us part of the water, we paying for the additional amount, and the electric and other replacements are estimated at $1,200 per year.

"I wish to thank you and the members of the committee for your cooperation in this department and the many courtesies extended to me and the other members of this department, and we wish for you all continued prosperity.

"Respectfully,
"WM. A. HANSELL,
"Chief of Construction."

DECATUR PRISONER ESCAPES EN ROUTE TO STATE FARM

Decatur, Ga., January 1.—(P)—John Jones, of the solicitor general's office here, announced today the escape of C. C. Hill, alias R. E. Davis, while en route to the state prison farm at Milledgeville to serve a three-year sentence for forgery.

Hill was riding in an automobile with several other prisoners and jumped from the car near Covington, Jones said. S. W. Thornton, guard in charge of the car, shot at him and expressed belief that he hit him. The other prisoners did not attempt to escape.

Hill pleaded guilty to forgery charges here on December 11. He had been quartered in the Decatur jail. Officers said he was wanted for forgery in Greenville and Spartanburg, S. C. and in other towns in Georgia and Alabama.

He was described as 31 years old, five feet eight inches tall, weight about 175 pounds, medium stout, light brown hair mixed with gray, blue eyes and fair complexioned.

QUEEN MARY HOPEFUL OVER KING'S CONDITION

Slight Improvement in Royal Patient Noted in Bulletin.

London, January 1.—(P)—A note of hopefulness sounded by Queen Mary in a New Year's message which she sent to the lord mayor of London today received confirmation tonight when a medical bulletin announced "a slight improvement in the general condition" of King George. The bulletin also said that the king had passed a restful day.

The improvement in the general condition of the royal patient is what the doctors, nurses, royal family and nation have been anxiously awaiting in the many recent days of suspense. The continued and marked weakness of the king had seemingly defied the best efforts of medical attendants.

Several days ago it became known that the local condition of the disease had been virtually conquered. Efforts to build up the general strength of the sick man were therefore watched closely.

Tonight's bulletin also revealed the new line of treatment which had been previously referred to by the doctors but kept secret so far as its nature was concerned. The bulletin also added a new name to the already long list of physicians who have been called into the case. The newcomer is Professor E. C. Dodds, professor of bio-chemistry in the University of London. He seemingly is responsible for the carrying out of the new treatment which resulted from chemical examination of the blood and consists in the administration of calcium.

Besides Professor Dodds the bulletin was signed by the regular trio of Sir Stanley Hewitt, Sir Hugh Rigby and Lord Dawson of Penn. In its complete form the announcement said:

"The king had a restful day and there is a slight improvement in his general condition. The administration of calcium, based on chemical examination of the blood, is producing beneficial results."

Professor Dodds is the chemical pathologist at one of London's leading hospitals and is an expert in all matters of chemical pathology. The new treatment appears to have produced beneficial results.

In general the two bulletins of today caused a more hopeful feeling than has prevailed for a long time. Only once before in the whole course of the king's illness have the doctors used the word "good" in their medical bulletins. That was on the Thursday before Christmas.

They used it again today, saying that the king had passed a good night. This was followed by a report of general improvement in his condition and the beneficial effects of the new treatment. The bulletins gave the nation renewed cause for thanksgiving and opened the year with new hopefulness.

BOLIVIA-PARAGUAY FAIL TO SIGN TREATY

Envoy Holds Up Ceremony When Instructions Fail to Arrive.

Washington, January 1.—(United News.)—Contrary to expectations representatives of Bolivia and Paraguay failed tonight to sign the proposed border treaty providing for a settlement of the border conflict between the two countries.

The protocol could not be signed at the meeting called for that purpose at the Pan-American union because of the delay in the arrival of the Bolivian minister.

Washington, had not received the expected instructions from his government authorizing him to sign.

After the special committee on mediation of the inter-American conference was in session an hour, Secretary of State Kellogg, acting chairman of the committee, made public the following explanation of the failure to sign:

"It is believed that the substance of the protocol expresses agreements of the two governments. Presumably of account of today being a holiday, instructions from Bolivia were delayed and her representative has not felt authorized to sign."

The delay in signing is believed, however, to be temporary and it is thought instructions will probably be received by Wednesday which will permit the Bolivian representative to sign.

Immediately upon the receipt of this authorization to sign another meeting will be called for the formal signatures.

The failure to sign caused the greatest surprise as it was officially announced earlier in the day that the treaty would be signed at 6 p. m.

Members of the special committee with the Paraguayan representatives met at 6 o'clock but the Bolivian minister was absent.

The Bolivian diplomat arrived a half hour late and the committee immediately went into executive session.

pleasing vapor

A DROP of Vapex on your folded handkerchief—breathe the vapor deeply—your cold is relieved instantly. Inhale it frequently, at any time, no matter what you are doing. The odor is pleasant and invigorating. Congestion is broken up.

A drop of Vapex gives off its healing vapor for an entire day, even noticeably increases in strength for several hours. One or two drops on the edge of your pillow at night will fight the cold as you sleep. This is the modern way to stop a cold!

Vapex kills cold germs—this astounding discovery was made in England during the war. With all around them suffering from colds and influenza, a few workers in a government laboratory remained in perfect health. What was the explanation?

Tests, supervised by physicians and government officials, proved beyond a doubt that these workers were rendered immune by a vapor given off by the materials with which they were working. The discovery was an important one. A new product—Vapex—was immediately welcomed throughout England, where its use for colds and similar ailments has become general and widespread.

Druggists in America now have Vapex—in the little dollar bottle containing 50 treatments, and the package with the green triangle.

Vapex is distributed by E. Fougere & Co., Inc., New York City.

Keeping In Step With Atlanta—

Davison-Paxon's Gained ONE MILLION DOLLARS In Sales

During 1928 Over 1927*

WHY?

Because:

—We strive constantly to bring the newest merchandise to Atlanta first—to show the smartest fashions simultaneously with their appearance in other metropolitan centers. In this effort, we are tremendously helped by our affiliation with R. H. Macy & Company, of New York, and their network of European buying organizations.

—We are carrying out our policy that our prices must be as low as the lowest in the city, quality for quality—meeting both the regular and the spasmodic special sales prices of all other retail stores every day. It is thrifty as well as smart to deal here.

—Our advertising is truthful and conservative. We believe that good will is best built if customers find more than they were lead to expect from the advertising, rather than less.

—The metropolitan proportions of this structure—anticipating in its size Atlanta's future growth—equipped with every device, including the most modern air refrigerating system, to make shopping a comfort and a pleasure. Wide aisles, high ceilings, ample elevator facilities and a carefully trained, intelligent force of salespeople are some of the reasons why 6,057 new charge accounts were added and 2,320,146 separate sales checks were written here during the past twelve months.

—Our new uptown location—surrounded by Theaters, Hotels and Clubs—has proven so easy of access that a rapidly increasing number of people are finding it convenient to deal here. This is evidenced by the fact that during the past three months we served an average of more than 3,000 people a day in our restaurant, soda fountains and lunch counters.

—Our affiliation with R. H. Macy & Company, America's leading department store, has placed at our disposal all those merchandising methods, retail experience, and prestige in the markets of the world, which has brought about their own phenomenal growth. Thus is combined the advantage of a tremendously successful New York store with a careful study of Atlanta's tastes and habits—which latter is really a study of our customers who, by their criticism and their generous patronage, have helped make Davison-Paxon's a much better store today than it was yesterday.

Because:

—Atlanta, as a city, is young, virile and enthusiastic. Young enough to get a thrill out of its leadership in golf, in football, in Southeast finances—and in bringing the Metropolitan Opera Company here annually. Atlanta is only in the preparatory school stage of its development—not yet full grown. Atlanta talks, thinks and acts like a metropolitan city—likes to call itself the "New York of the South"—and deserves to be known as the metropolitan city of the Southeast. Its populated area and its population are growing rapidly. Building permits for eleven months of 1928 were $20,000,000 as compared with $12,000,000 for the twelve months of 1927. Atlanta is modern and progressive in every way,

Business Leaders See 1929 On Even Bigger Prosperity Basis Than Year Closed

Industry in Excellent Shape, Says Chrysler; Trading in Securities To Increase, Beatty Thinks

New York, January 1.—(AP)—The year 1929 should be one of unprecedented prosperity in the opinion of Walter P. Chrysler, president and chairman of the Chrysler corporation, who bases his belief on the theory that the present rate of prosperity is in thorough keeping with modern speed, to which he says the automobile has contributed mightily.

"Generally speaking," Mr. Chrysler said, "business is excellent and will be better in most lines. Manufacturing, wholesale and retail are not unduly over-extended in credit. Industry is not suffering from the over-production which has sometimes characterized it in the past. I can see nothing but good signs along the road of business in the present year."

"Our automobile industry will achieve another production and sales record. I believe the figure will be approximately 4,750,000 cars by the end of next December. I believe the United States and Canada will export approximately 1,000,000 automobiles, thus realizing an ambition that has dominated our manufacturers for some time."

Beatty Is Optimistic.

William Beatty, president of the New York produce exchange, believes that trading in securities steadily will increase. "One reason for this," he explained, "seems to be that modern invention and better organization of industry has speeded up the creation of wealth, and a sound political and economic system has distributed the earnings of this process into the hands of millions of people."

Wesley O. Ash, manager of the San Francisco bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the United States department of commerce, said indications point to a healthy increase in the foreign trade of the Pacific coast for 1929, especially agricultural products. He estimates 130 ships, equipped with refrigerating machinery, will leave San Francisco for foreign ports as compared with 90 in 1928, while for the first time in history there will be direct service through the Panama Canal supplying both general and refrigerator cargoes to Argentina and Brazil.

The many applications of electricity and the usefulness and attractiveness of electrical products, according to Huntington B. Crouse, president of the National Electric Manufacturers association, have stimulated the growth of the electrical industry in all its branches and have supplied many of the facilities that are needed in industries to reach new heights of prosperity during 1929. He sees added proof each year that the nation is becoming electrically minded.

Griff Johnson, vice president of the Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa, of Des Moines, reports 1928 showed marked improvement in agricultural conditions throughout the middle west. The general mental attitude now is more favorable, he says, inquiry about farms has been more active than at any time since 1919 and selling prices have shown a trend to higher levels.

More expensive boats, built for private owners, were launched during 1928 than in any other year on record and orders for 1929 have set a mark far beyond that of 1928, says Joseph A. MacDonald, president of Henry J. Gielow, Inc., of New York. "Foreign constructed yachts are no longer assumed to be superior," he explained, "and the day that we anticipated for many years is here. American yachts are built in American yards."

Police, Firemen and Stork First Fire Alarm Proves False Busy on First Day of 1929

Advent of the year 1929 Tuesday morning found police, firemen and the stork on the alert. Among the first happenings of the new year were the following:

E. F. Volbrecht, 37, of 936 Highland avenue, was first person arrested by police. The arrest came when Volbrecht tossed a firecracker down a friend's neck, police said.

Burgess Baird, of Sandy Springs, figured in the first accident reported during the new year. Baird was struck by a car driven by an unidentified driver at Ponce de Leon and Glen Iris drive.

Brewer's pharmacy, at 1173 Lee street, reported the first burglary of the new year. A small amount of merchandise was taken.

T. R. Key, of 508 Central avenue, was the first holdup victim reported. Key told police three negroes slugged him and robbed him of his watch and $5.

The first fire alarm of the new year was false. The call came in from box 87, at Georgia avenue and Hill street.

F. T. Jennings, of 408 Fifth street, was the first Atlantan to report a stolen automobile. Jennings' car was taken from Peachtree near Harris street.

The first baby born during 1929 at Grady hospital was an eight-pound daughter to Mrs. Thelma Mangdon, of 432 Glenwood avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pierce, of Atlanta, who are visiting her mother, Mrs. Raigin, at Lithonia, reported the birth of an eight-pound girl at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. Dr. R. S. Pounds, of Redan, attended the mother.

Howard H. McCall, Sr., prominent Atlanta business man and president of the Paragon Box company, was in a critical condition at Wesley Memorial hospital late Tuesday night following an emergency operation performed Sunday.

After showing a slight improvement Monday Mr. McCall suffered a relapse Tuesday.

Mr. McCall is well known and popular in local business and social circles. He is a member of the Capital City club and the Georgia lodge, F. & A. M. In addition he has been for years an active member of the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church.

COUPLE IN NARROW ESCAPE AS HOME IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Moore, of 1215 Williams street, N. W., narrowly escaped death early Tuesday morning when their home caught fire and was badly damaged by flames. Mrs. Moore, who was unconscious from the heavy smoke, was carried to safety through a window by her husband, who awakened to find the bedroom ablaze.

Defective wiring was said to have caused the fire. The house was damaged badly, and the room usually occupied by the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Moore, suffered a great deal of damage. The children were visiting their grandparents in Cedartown at the time of the fire.

Atheism Losing Ground in Russia, Student Learns

BY C. M. McILLAN.

Russia's bolshevik atheism is being overcome and religious worship in that turbulent country is being allowed to run unmolested, according to Alexander P. Gavrilovich, Russian student at Emory university.

The information regarding the change of attitude in his native country, Siberia, in the far east of Russia, came to the Emory student in the form of the recent official edition of the soviet calendar. This calendar has included the recognition of the Christian holidays, such as Christmas, Easter, Trinity and others, the student said.

Further proof of this religious toleration by the soviet government was shown in the pre-Christmas editions of the Vladivostok daily paper which Gavrilovich receives. Interest and news in these issues were centered around preparations for Christmas festivities and gayeties similar to those of other countries of Europe, and not unlike America, the student said.

Gavrilovich escaped from soviet Russia in 1922, going into Harbin, China, where he acted as missionary to the Russian people of Manchuria. He left Vladivostok at the time when religious persecution was at its height, and it was for this reason that he had to leave the country secretly in order to continue his mission work.

The Emory student had a thrilling experience in his escape across the treacherous mountain passes in the heart of winter, and his subsequent hardships as a missionary in Manchuria. He came to Emory in 1927 to further prepare himself for his work. After his graduation in August, 1929, he expects to return to Harbin.

GOODSON ELECTED TO SERVE AGAIN AS HEAD OF ORDER

J. C. Goodson has been installed as president of the Atlanta division, No. 4, of the Order of Sleeping Car Conductors, for his fifth term in this territory. It has been announced. Other elective officers who again will serve with Mr. Goodson are: G. Coleman, vice president; J. A. Brooks, secretary-treasurer; J. P. Crawford, conductor; R. B. Jackson, chaplain, and J. A. Dean, sentinel.

Mr. Goodson assumes the chairmanship of the grievance board under the election rules and has appointed G. Coleman and J. W. Weaver to serve as members on this board. Other appointments include a large number of committees to handle many details in connection with the order and the appointment as representatives of H. L. Eunice, at Savannah, and Z. B. Kreps, at Charleston.

Aside from Mr. Goodson's connection with the local division, he is southeastern chairman of the conductors on appealed cases and is grand division representative in his territory with headquarters at Kansas City, Mo.

LAGGING STUDENTS TO DELAY EMORY OPENING ONE DAY

Emory university will not open for class work on Wednesday as scheduled, the administration announced Tuesday morning. Due to the slow return of many of the students following the holidays, classes will be called on Thursday morning at 8 o'clock.

According to the registrar's office, less than half of the regular student body had registered for the winter quarter by last Monday morning. This fact was due to the school closing its fall term's work five days early on account of the prevalence of influenza among the students. Tuesday and Wednesday of this week has, therefore, been given over for completion of registration.

President Harvey W. Cox stated that indications were that the winter quarter would be a most successful session for Emory. All of the "flu" patients have recovered and every precaution will be taken to prevent a recurrence of the epidemic, he said.

Sigma Delta Kappas To Hold Convention Here December 29-31

The Sigma Delta Kappa national legal fraternity will meet in Atlanta December 29, 30 and 31, 1929, the Atlanta Convention and Tourist bureau was advised Tuesday by wire from A. P. Crumley, of the local office of the Southern Railway company, who attended the session just closed in Denver, Col.

Invitations to meet in Atlanta were presented to the convention in Denver from Mayor Ragland, Governor Hardman, the junior chamber of commerce and the convention bureau. The organization met here in 1925. Among local members of the fraternity are Chief Justice Richard B. Russell, of the state supreme court; Attorney-General George M. Napier, Judge John D. Humphries, of Fulton superior court, and Hooper Alexander, former federal district attorney.

Waycross Jurist Assumes Duties With New Year

Waycross, Ga., January 1.—(Special.)—M. D. Dickerson, of Douglas, today assumed his duties as judge of the Waycross superior court circuit. He was elected to the bench to succeed Judge J. D. Blalock, who was appointed by Governor Hardman when Judge H. D. Reed resigned.

Judge Dickerson was born February 12, 1886, in Clinch county and

JUDGE M. D. DICKERSON.

was reared on a farm until 16 years of age. He attended the county schools and later taught schools in Ware and Pierce counties. Following this he entered the Georgia Normal and Business college at Asheville, graduating there he entered the University of Georgia, where he took his law degree in 1901.

He located in Douglas and has been practicing law for 27 years. In 1904 he was elected solicitor of the city court of Douglas, in which capacity he served until 1910. He was then elected solicitor-general of the Waycross judicial circuit and served for eight years, being known as one of the ablest solicitors in Georgia. He retired from this office in 1918.

In addition to his law practice, during which he has appeared as counsel in many of the most notable cases of this section, he has served as chairman of the board of education of Douglas, as chairman of the democratic executive committee of Coffee county, and has been identified prominently with the public movements of his section.

Tag Day Starts Today; For State Autos, of Course

Georgia will have another tag day today. But unlike the usual one-day affairs this one will last a month. All pedestrians, however, are exempt.

Which is to say that automobile license tags for 1929 go on sale in the office of the secretary of state this morning.

And woe to the procrastinating motorist who does not "subscribe" by February 1. For the legislature has ordained that new plates must be displayed on all machines by that date or their owners will incur penalties. This year, two tags instead of one will be furnished, one for the front and one for the rear of the automobile. The color will be orange figures on a black background.

Another innovation will be the classification of tag numbers as to cost. Those licenses that cost more than $16 will have numerically between 1 and 40,000, which will be inscribed "A". The next price class, $14 to $15.50 will be known as "B" numbers and will range from 40,001 to 65,000. "C" numbers at $12.50 to $13.50 will run from 65,001 to 96,000 and "D" tags at $11.25 to $12 will run up to 314,000. There will be no change in the classification of trucks.

A total of about 375,000 sets of the 1929 plates have been ordered by the secretary of state, and his office staff has been virtually doubled to care for the anticipated rush during January.

DR. CHARLES WAITS TO BE INSTALLED AS DOCTORS' HEAD

Insurrection of Dr. Charles E. Waits, newly-elected president of the Fulton County Medical society, will be a feature of the 24th anniversary dinner of the organization at 7 o'clock Thursday night at the Capital City club. He will be introduced by Dr. E. C. Davis, retiring president. The inaugural address will follow an elaborate musical program which will be rendered by members of the society. Other officers are Dr. J. M. Brawner, vice president, and Dr. Howard Halsey, secretary and treasurer.

A unique feature of the evening's program will be the impersonation by members of the society of famous characters in medical history who will appear as spirits returned to earth. These characters are Hippocrates, Galen, William Harvey, John Hunter, Edward Jenner, Laennec, Crawford Long, Rudolf Virchow, Louis Pasteur, Joseph Lister and Robert Koch. Dr. Frank Boland will act as toastmaster. The program is in charge of a committee composed of Drs. E. H. Greene, E. D. Shanks, W. A. Starnes, Joseph Yampolsky, Jack Jones, W. F. Wells, Cliff Brannen and C. B. Upshaw.

Examinations Ordered For All Applicants For Chief of Police

Denial that an order calling for examination of applicants for the position of chief of police is an indication that Chief James L. Beavers intends to quit was made Tuesday following publication of action of the police committee in authorizing the examinations.

J. A. McKibben, member of the detective bureau, was the first applicant for the chief's examination. About 100 civilians have applied to take examinations for patrolmen to be held at the same time, and members of the department will take examinations for promotions. The examinations will be held in about three weeks, it was indicated.

LOCAL POLICEMEN LAUDED FOR WORK BY CHIEF BEAVERS

Congratulations upon the 1928 record of the police department were extended to members of the force Tuesday in the New Year's message by Chief James L. Beavers, who paid tribute to the efforts of the officers to suppress crime here.

Chief Beavers urged the policemen to put their shoulders to the wheel for a better record during 1929, and expressed the hope of a crimeless year for Atlanta.

ATLANTA OPENS 1929 IN GOOD CONDITION

Balance of $3,070,626.54 in City Treasury and Banks Carried Over.

Atlanta opened the new year in a favorable financial position, it was indicated in figures announced at the city comptroller's office Tuesday. A balance of $3,070,626.54 in treasury and in banks was carried over from last year by the city Comptroller B. Graham West reported.

Another expression of financial prosperity, with which Atlanta entered upon 1929 was seen in distribution by local banks of $400,000 in dividends to their stockholders.

While a large portion of the cash balance carried over on the city's credit sheet consists of bond funds to be expended in completion of the two viaducts, the new city hall, school construction work and sewer and waterworks extensions, there remained no unpaid bills against the city at the end of the year when it closed its books, Comptroller West stated.

All bills paid promptly.

"All bills and obligations were met promptly during the year," the comptroller said. "I think the city is entitled to considerable credit for financial record during 1928 in view of the very small increase in property assessments on we levied taxes during the year."

"Appropriations were adjusted to the revenue available, and all departments kept within their allocations," Mr. West reported. "The school department, which usually runs into financial difficulties at the end of the year showed a balance of $25,643.17 of the funds allotted from the current revenue."

The income of the city government for 1928 was $15,293,138.51, while disbursements totaled $16,113,547.79. The large balance carried over at the year end was made up by the bond funds on hand. The balance on hand at the beginning of 1928 was $4,174,115.94, being in excess of the present sum on hand, the comptroller's figures showed.

Assets of the municipal government were reported at $4,666,262.15. This figure includes, besides the balance in banks and treasury, the general tax fund amounting to $914,635.61, street assessment items of $40,000, street pavement items of $16,000 and repair and replacement items of $15,000, these items being in the form of bills to be collected by the city.

The bond funds still on hand totaled $273,507.19 from the 1921 issue, and $8,874,144.13 from the 1926 issue.

Stockholders of various Atlanta banks will get a good start for the new year as the result of the distribution of dividends amounting to more than $400,000.

Checks mailed out.

Checks for half this amount have been mailed to the stockholders of the Atlanta and Lowry National bank, representing a quarterly dividend of 5 per cent or an increase of one per cent over past years. The next largest melon slice has been distributed by the Fourth National, which has sent out semi-annual dividend checks of 10 per cent and an extra dividend of 2 per cent totaling $144,000, the semi-annual dividend rate having been increased from 8 to 10 per cent at a recent directors' meeting.

Stockholders of the Citizens & Southern National bank will be richer by $120,000 as a result of a regular 3 per cent quarterly dividend and the Citizens and Southern company, an affiliated company, is paying a similar dividend on its capitalization of $400,000.

The Atlanta Trust company is distributing approximately $60,000 and the Fulton National $17,500. In addition, the Fulton National is paying out about $45,000 in interest on savings accounts which total $2,700,000.

CORA FRANCES ALLEN
Georgia Child
Amazes Mother

Constipation is one of the worst health-ruiners for children. Waste matter held too long in their little stomachs and bowels, forms poisons which pollute their blood, cause headaches, bad breath, coated tongue, indigestion; make them bilious, weak, sorrow, fretful and underweight.

At the first sign of constipation, give your child a little California Fig Syrup. Children love its rich, fruity flavor. It's purely vegetable, a gentle but certain laxative, and it gives tone and strength to the stomach and bowels so they continue to act normally, of their own accord.

Thousands of Georgia mothers are praising it. Mrs. W. M. Allen, 487 Atlanta Ave., S. E., Atlanta, says: "My little girl, Cora Frances, had terrible cramping pains in her stomach at times and suffered from constipation. Her breath was bad and she never wanted anything to eat. She was fretful, pale and weak."

"Nothing seemed to help her until I got some California Fig Syrup. Her trouble stopped after the first few doses, and she amazed me by the way her pretty, natural color came back. Soon she was as playful and happy as ever and she's been gaining ever since."

Like all good things, California Fig Syrup is imitated, but you can always get the genuine by looking for the name "California" on the carton. (adv.)

NOW, TO BUSINESS!

The holidays are over. Now, to business.The annual meetings of corporations generally will be held during the month, and the new year readjustments made. Conditioned by a widespread prosperity in 1928, expansion programs for the present year will be more extensive than perhaps ever before.The merchants are "taking stock," and preparing for what indications point to a phenomenal
new record in spring trading.The working man and the working woman, in office, shop, store, factory, field—everywhere—take on new enthusiasm, and the spirit of the new year should be to render better service than ever by loving the work at hand, if honorable and worth while, better than ever.No service, in whatever line, can ever be so admirably rendered, as that impelled by a genuine love for that service.The farmer must begin to make up his program of operations for the year. To "live at home," and to make the money crops surpluses,
should be the paramount consideration. This requires a systematic balancing in production.Shortly millions of dollars will be turned loose in dividends. This should stimulate wise investments
and sound economy.Hard work, with the proper spirit
to work, is the foundation of the hour.Sobriety, regular habits, temperance
in all things, optimism, health conservation, unselfishness—these are some of the impelling forces
behind success, temporal and spiritual and social.

A TYPICAL INSTANCE.

In a communication from G. D.
Ross, prominent business man of Winder, published elsewhere, the startling statement is made that Barrow county issued $100,000 in road bonds a number of years ago
and that "there is not today a foot of paved roads in the county."The important Bankhead National highway, extending from Washington to Atlanta and thence west
through the southern tier of Gulf states to the Pacific coast, is unpaved in Barrow.This particular through-state highway is unpaved practically its entire distance through Georgia, a situation that is as disgraceful as it is inexplicable.But Barrow county is not alone
in having issued highway bonds and having no permanently paved highways to show for the money.There are others in the same distressing situation. Others still have put up their bond proceeds for
"matching," and a part of the road
programs only have been completed, in some instances only
"grades" having been made, which have already washed partly away.The entire system of Georgia road building is wrong, and is responsible for Barrow's unenviable condition, and for the general
"patch-work" that we have throughout the state.The laws are faulty which make such a system possible, and, as Mr.
Ross says, "it was not the intention of the framers of the highway acts to create such a situation," but it is nevertheless the direct result of the county unit plan, and the "political log-rolling" in road administration.The state has ample motor-tax resources that can be capitalized to build to completion in the next four or five years the network of highways provided for in the original act, but in providing such a financial arrangement, which is sound to the core, the state must be made the building unit, and the county assessments eliminated.

The latter provision, which is exercised to the letter today, not only prevents highway paving from becoming connected, but it imposes

unrighteous burdens upon counties,
to be met by property taxes, to do the state's job, while the burdened counties must suffer through inability to make needed
county improvements, including lateral road construction. Where counties cannot bond they have not even the hope for paved highways.
And the whole state suffers.As Mr. Ross so aptly says, "the present generation in rural Georgia must have highway relief."It is not difficult to provide such relief, and thereby add to the material prosperity of the state, but it can be done only by a radical revision of the existing statute and operating methods.

PRACTICAL PEACE EXAMPLE.

The signing of the arbitration
protocol by which the dispute between Bolivia and Paraguay will be settled without a resort to arms is the most impressive practical demonstration of the determination of the nations of the world to forever
outlaw war that has been made since the armistice.It is potential force in illustrating the soundness and the practicability of the Kellogg multilateral treaty.That the protocol was signed on Tuesday made it a happy new year
gift to the Pan-American conference that has worked, in cooperation with the American secretary of state, so diligently on the proposal.It is fitting that Secretary Kellogg, who is today the world's most outstanding ambassador of universal peace, should have been chosen chairman of the special committee that prepared the terms of the agreement.The trouble between these two Latin republics in South America
had given the world a great deal
of concern, and especially this nation, which is the major power of the western hemisphere, and the throne upon which the Monroe doctrine rests as a moral force for Pan-American amity, and against territorial aggression on the part of any European or Asiatic nation.Now, that the treaty of peace has been signed, the world breathes easier.

"WATCH THE STEP" IN 1929.

The distressing traffic accident
Monday in which two lives were sacrificed, again emphasizes the importance of being safety-minded at all times, whether driving or walking, and under all circumstances,
whether in traffic or in the shop or office or home.Without attempting to place the blame for a truck skidding into a motor bus, the fact remains that the accident was avoidable. Ninety-nine of one hundred such accidents,
whether resulting in tragedies or slight injuries or fortunate escapes, are avoidable. If the driver's mind and the pedestrian's mind is on "safety first," when in positions of possible hazard, accidents will not occur, and homes will not be saddened by them.On the beginning of a new year
every person should determine upon the conservation of life and limb as far as humanly possible.In this connection the officials enforcing traffic ordinances, and the trial judges, should be determined to make Atlanta's streets safer in 1929 than they were in 1928.The holiday record, on the whole, has been good. But for the tragedy of Monday it would have been excellent. Certainly no official was to blame for that. But a more rigid enforcement, and a more rigid application of severe penalties
for malicious violations, and for recklessness and for operating motor cars while intoxicated, will bring about better conditions.One way to enforce law is to impress upon would-be violators the price of a disrespect for the law.
If any reader contemplates swearing off from smoking we know of a gang of fellows who will relieve him of the temptation if he mails
the cigars to us.The reason that great men are sometimes lonely is that they sacrificed too many friends in climbing the ladder of success.Down in Florida the most popular penny-in-the-slot scales in a small town carries a placard "Many are weighed and found wanting."We wish that the president was to issue another message to congress and tell the word what he thinks of Georgia and its hospitality.There are two sides to everything but in motoring keep to the right side.Since the president has taken up shooting as a hobby he has no use for a mechanical horse.When you begin talking to a woman, who is letting her hair grow
long again, she cuts it short.Most girls have a candid opinion of Christmas.Cross streets and cross words are the greatest puzzles of the times.THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Belgium

Alarmed.

Belgium is not to have the world
exposition of 1930 if the newspapers
of Liege and Brussels have their way.
For Antwerp has covered herself with shame, say those journals. The shame of Antwerp is that her citizens have elected Dr. August Borms to parliament by an overwhelming majority.
Borms is the activist leader who favors autonomous Flanders and who has been in jail for years of life-sentence for having collaborated with the German invaders in obtaining for Flanders a greater measure of self-government.Borms received 30,000
votes, his nearest rival liberal got 30-000 ballots. There were also 40,000 blank votes cast. The newspapers of Wallonia newspapers in Brussels cry out: "30,000 Boches voted in Antwerp, 40,000 cowards and 30,000 Belgians." At any rate it appears that the men who are worthy of the name
Belgians were in a hopeless minority.
In Liege they say: "There is no use, Flanders and Wallonia can never together, we may as well give up."La Nation Belge, of Brussels, is furious with Flanders. Even King Albert is said to be alarmed. The king had been told the Flemings were just an inferior grade of human beings,
nationalized in language and culture.
The growing nationalist movement
shows that the Flemings are at last awakening to the fact that they form
a majority in the country and that if they stand together they can enforce their rights, even without violence. In the meantime the government has quashed the election of Dr.
Borms and therewith has thrown a little more oil on the flames, in the vain hope of putting them out.

New Russian

Film.

Although the Paris police have strictly prohibited the showing of soviet films, even in private gatherings, it is still possible to see some of the forbidden works of masters like Eisenstein and Poudovkine. The films are bootlegged into France and while they do not reach any theaters, many thousands of film fans have the risk
of arrest each week to see them.
The latest to arrive is "The Descendant of Gengis-Kahn." It deals of course with the Far East. The director, Pou-dovkine, has, however, not fallen into the trap of making a so-called "super-film" pompous and fairy-like. There is no element of folk folklore in it.
Buddhist priests, religious ceremonies, ritual dances, etc., but the director has not stressed their importance
as the soviet propaganda agent would like to do. The storm, that runs through the entire plot like an undercurrent,
breaks out in a vertiginous upheaval.
It is a revolutionary film. The work of the people becomes an elementary
force, a natural force that sweeps against foreign dominations. Everyone of the spectators who attended the recent Paris showing that we attended was drawn irresistibly into the revolt, that is realized with an amazing cinematographic power. One is left with a deep and lasting impression that Poudovkine is the master of all directors, German, French and American.

Careless

Carmen.

The record of the state of Tennessee, with its famous Scopes trial, has been beaten. And that by Spain. Car-min Padin Alvarez, a Madrilese newsman and politician, was reported to have been arrested in the neighborhood pump was careless enough to drop the remark that our Lord had brothers and sisters. The remark was reported and the authorities, judging that the Divine Majesty was insulted by accrediting a normal family life to himself, ordered him to be imprisoned for two years. The trial developed that Marin did not read until he was let from his cell. Of course, everybody knows that the New Testament refers in sundry places to James, the brother of the Lord, and to other brothers.
A higher court to which Senora Alvarez
had recourse confirmed the sentence
and she was marched off to prison.
The curious part of this case is that the harsh sentence, smacking of well-known old Spanish ways, is the fact that several anti-clerical and out-and-
out atheistic publications, and especially in that country, and are never molested. The League of the Rights of Men is occupying itself with Madrid Alvarez, but so far has not let him out. It is thought that the religious authorities have been seeking a test case. Not that they have any president they are expected to grow bold.50 BILLION DOLLARS INVOLVED IN RULING

The federal state commission has estimated the value of these public utilities in 1922 at 20 billion dollars.
Since that time at least five billion dollars have been added in their expenses and improvement.
No one has yet attempted to estimate how the value of these utilities
would be affected by the application of the different methods now being fought out before the court. It appears certain, however, that the "reduction value" theory advocated by the railroad writers would reduce the other utilities in anything like the same degree that it would the common carriers. The railroads accounted for half of the total value
largely built half a century or more ago when prices were low, while the heaviest investments in the utilities
have been made during the last decade. The railroads would therefore stand to gain most heavily by the large increase in prices that has occurred since 1911.

Noted Counsel in Case.

The notable issues of property
and principle involved in this case are reflected in the distinguished character of the counsel who will appear before the supreme court. The government will be represented by two former cabinet officers, both of whom served under the present chief justice.
William Howard Taft, Walter L.
Fisher, of Chicago, former secretary of the interior, has been specially retained to appear on behalf of the interstate commerce commission and George W. Wickersham, former attorney general, to represent the department of Justice.On the railroad side there also appears a member of the Taft cabinet
in the person of Charles Nagel, of St. Louis, former secretary of commerce and labor. Other notable names among the carriers' counsel are Frederick H. Wood, Leslie Craven, Daniel N. Krieb and Robert H. Kelley.
A remarkable array of legal talent,
all of whom have spent months in preparation for the argument of this case.But wait! There is a third party in this extraordinary proceeding. In addition to the government and the railroads, there is also the counsel for the so-called conference on valuation$100,000 Bonds Issued Several Years Ago, But County Has No PavingEditor Constitution: We have read
a great deal concerning "pay-as-you-go," but it now appears that the state highway department has reached the point where it can neither pay nor go.I am not familiar with conditions
in other parts of the state, but I do know that Barrow county issued
road bonds a number of years ago
in the sum of $100,000, and there is not a foot of paved road in this county.The original act creating the state highway board calls for "a system of state-aid roads in this state for the purpose of inter-connecting the several county seats of this state which have been in jail for years of life-sentence under the state highway department." The act of 1919 further provides:"It shall be the duty of the state highway board to institute and carry out
efficient and equitable plans for maintenance,
for improvement, and for the construction
of durable paving on the designated state-aid roads, whereby the entire system shall,
as rapidly as possible with the funds made available, be prepared for and receive such type of pavement, known to be durable
under heavy traffic, as the state highway department shall specify."It has been more than nine years
since this act became the Georgia law,
and the state highway department has not only failed to maintain the state important highway connecting county seat with county seat in the state of Georgia remains unpaved in Barrow county. I refer to the Bankhead highway.Barrow county adjoints Jackson, the home county of Chairman Holder and Governor Hardin, and yet there is no paved road from Winder to Jefferson. Barrow adjoints Walton, and yet
there is no paved road from Winder
to Gainesville. Barrow adjoints Oconee, and yet there is no paved road from Winder to Watkinsville.
Barrow adjoints Gwinnett, and yet
there is no paved road from Winder
to Lawrenceville.Our country-loving taxpayers justly marvel at the reckless scattering of millions of dollars throughout the state by the highway department with nothing to show for it except a few Evidently the highway sifter that has been shaken over the state has some of its holes plugged.It was not their intent and purpose of the original act creating the highway department that state-aid roads
should be a patchwork system. Millions of dollars would have been needed had the highway department completed roads from county seat to county seat when once begun, instead of jumping here and there to patch political adherents. This unavoidable overhead costs of contractors have been taken care of by the state, by reason of increased estimates incorporated in the bills.This is not intended as a criticism
questioning the integrity of the chairman or any member of the highway board. It is only to point out that to indicate that selfish political friends have log-rolled the department to the detriments of efficiency. The removal of the present chairman, and the appointment of a new one, would be a step in the right direction. As a general rule
all political groups look through colored glasses, and a great deal depends on the color of the glasses worn by the one in power.I hold no brief for contractors and sellers of road material, neither do
I become alarmed when men surround me with all sorts of considerable crocodile tears because farmers are about to be denied the privilege of going to church and their children
to school, and the flagging in rural districts and doctors, ambulance
men and hearses bumping over ruts, gullies
and mudholes it is imperative that the next generation living in rural Georgia should have some relief as to their main roads.If an issue of bonds is the only remedy, then give us the remedy, that go'."G. D. ROSS.

VISIT IN GEORGIA

Five rested quietly at the Coffin home,
with their official party, and their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Coffin, before the first stretch of the homeward journey, through the meandering marshy channels to St. Simons island. The president's special train was drawn up awaiting the chief executive's arrival.
Mr. Coolidge frankly enjoyed his stay here and freely acknowledged his gratitude for the hospitality that had been shown him. The course of his six-day visit, which was punctuated by Mr. Coolidge himself, resulted in a member of his party, Colonel Osamu Latrobe, his military aide, bringing down a fine case of the state's wine.

cruised to St. Simons island on the late Senator Robert M. La Follette's boat, which is now a historic site.

had been waiting for the president's return, was drawn up at the station.

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADYGRAND NEWS FOR SKINNY
NINNIES.These days, in spite of all we health authorities say about it, frailness of body is alarmingly popular, especially among the more credulous sex.
From the queries I receive I know
there are not a few young women
who are perfectly willing to sacrifice
health itself if they can only achieve reduction to the standards favored by the fashion cartoonists. So far as I can see, the recent announcement that tuberculosis sketches are out, and round figures are in again, has not yet permeated the Dumb Dora ranks.
Blenderless, even skinning is not quite fatal to any aspirations for beauty if the poor thing has a faint suggestion of a double chin, but when the general stringy contour is set off with a scrawny dewlap, then the effect is truly a holy fright, and the gender of the apparition masculine or feminine, I have grand news for you.
Dr. Munyon in his pamphlet day never felt greater pleasure than I feel
when I tell you holy frights "There is hope."The first thing every such undernourished, overweight individual should do is, have a proper medical examination. This will include not only a test for sugar, but also carbohydrate tolerance test—that is, a test
to see whether you can take the normal amount of glucose in solution and utilize it in metabolism. A normal individual should take 100 grams (approximately three ounces) of sugar,
candy, or other carbohydrate food
without showing any escape of unused sugar in the urine in the next three hours.Here is the secret of many, not all,
but of many, who persist in that appearance of walking about to save financial expenses in spite of fairly heavy appetites. They have not taped, as a rule, but they have a low carbohydrate tolerance, and they fail to utilize a considerable portion of the carbohydrate food they consume.
I told you here some time ago about the use of insulin for the purpose of helping some of these skinny folk to lay
on a few pounds of comfortable flesh.
Sometimes, I admit, I put
"em over a bit too fast. Even now
I am unable to tell you where you will find a doctor who gives insulin for this purpose. Conservatism is rampant among regular physicians,
if one of them may be permitted to Hilberneise. Many readers complain that they can't find a doctor who gives insulin in diabetes. There's a fair test of a good doctor; if he "doesn't believe in" insulin treatment
or puts off the diabetic patient with a hint that insulin treatment is "dangerous," continue the search, for you haven't found a good doctor yet.Dr. K. E. Apple, C. B. E. and H. H. Marshall report that the use of insulin has brought about definite improvement in 20 per cent of their cases all of which were in mentally deranged patients. If it helps to add weight and, of course, strength, to the emaciated body of the insane patient, which is a very real problem,
to fatten up a sane one—and that's one thing we must say of these holy frights, their gray matter is usually in excellent condition, and there's something uncanny about it—encountering a holy fright I always have a queer inner idea that maybe he or she is a sane one, and that's about
it. If the adversary says he has colitis, then I know he does. More about this soon.

On figures furnished the board by Sam J. Slate, state auditor, it is stated that the January, 1929, report

The statement sets forth the li-

Governor J. G. Hardman, who is informed that the highway
department had indebtedness aggregating $1,000,000, which will be paid by the state, and who has been giving serious consideration to the calling
of an extra session of the legislature,
had no comment on the accounts.
The board's statement is as follows:
"It has never been the policy of
this board to engage in litigation.
It has preferred, rather, to have the people
of Georgia, whose servants we are,
judge the justice or injustice of management. The department as they appear in the construction of highways
and bridges in the state."
"However, in view of the erroneous and misleading and incorrect statements recently published in some of the daily papers and disseminated
throughout the state, we deem it advisable to give a statement of the financial situation of the state highway department."

situation of the highway department
may be understood, we enclose statement of the state auditor which shows

Economic Life of Germany Strong, Nation Able To Pay Reparations, Gilbert Finds

Report Describes People Placing Product of Science, Skill and Labor To Pay for War.

Berlin, January 1.—(AP)—Confidence in Germany's economic soundness is the dominant note in Agent General Seymour Parker Gilbert's report for the fourth reparations annual year made public today.

The report paints a highly complimentary picture of Germany's entire economic life. The agent general testifies to Germany's punctilious payments of all sums due on the reparations account and vividly describes Germany as placing the product of her science, skill and labor at the disposal of creditor nations in an effort to pay for the war.

Mr. Gilbert repeats earlier charges of over spending and over borrowing by the German states and individual communities. In his report he expressed the further opinion that "the most encouraging feature of the whole four years from the standpoint of public finances is the great productivity of resources notwithstanding important reductions in taxation."

With reference to payments for the current annual year the report forecasts that "no question can fairly arise, in the light of practical experience thus far, as to the ability of the reich to provide the full amount of its standard contribution to the plan."

The introductory covering letter contains many pithy observations on Germany's economic health. One paragraph points out that the German Railway company is in a strong financial position and that it is able to carry the full annual charge for the service of its reparations bond.

MISS BETTY BACKUS' FUNERAL WEDNESDAY

Cartersville, Ga., January 1.—(Special.)—Funeral services for Miss Betty Backus, 19, will be held Wednesday at 10 o'clock, with interment in Oak Hill cemetery. She died early Monday in an Atlanta hospital.

Miss Backus was a student at Peachy college, Nashville, and was at home for the Christmas holidays when she died. Surviving are her father, L. J. Backus; one sister, Miss Alice Backus, a student at Washington seminary, Atlanta; and one brother, Billy Backus, a student at Georgia Tech.

SARGON BROUGHT QUICK RECOVERY, SAYS F. A. DAVIS

Pioneer Citizen Wants Friends Here in Atlanta To Know What Sargon Has Done for Him.

"I want my friends here in Atlanta to know what I have done for me, and also my old friends back at Chipley, Georgia, where I used to live, to know what these wonderful medicines—Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills—have done for me."

"All my friends know how I have suffered for years with rheumatism without ever being able to get any relief. When I had to be on my feet much of the time I would suffer so I was almost past going. I am now 70 years old, and, like most men of my age, I have suffered for years with chronic constipation and torpid liver. I also had a bad gall bladder. This liver and gall bladder trouble seemed to fill my whole system with poison, and I guess that is what caused my rheumatism. I am now on my second bottle of Sargon and I feel sure that this medicine has entirely removed all the poison that has been in my system for such a long time."

"The Pills have also straightened out my liver and gall bladder trouble. I am not being bothered with constipation any more, and I no longer have an ache or pain from rheumatism. My appetite is fine and I have more strength and energy than I have had in a good many years."

"I am the father of three children, and have been married 48 years. I think so much of Sargon that I have gotten my wife to start on it, and I believe it will help her just like it did me."

The above statement was made by F. A. Davis, who lives at 1081 Seaboard avenue, this city, and who has been a resident of Atlanta for 28 years.

When Sargon is given to debilitated, rundown men and women, the following results are noted in the majority of cases:

The appetite increases; the complexion clears; indigestion, gas, bloating, constipation and many other common, every-day ailments are overcome. A sense of physical well-being and mental alertness replaces a dragging body and depressed mind.

Sargon, the scientific formula which is accomplishing such remarkable results in all parts of the country, can be obtained from the Jacobs' Pharmacy company, stores all over Atlanta. A special representative of the Sargon laboratories can be seen at Jacobs' main store, 6 and 8 Marietta street, where he will gladly explain the therapeutic action of Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills to all who are interested.—(adv.)

ATTACK ON RELIGION DRAWS OSBORN'S FIRE

New York, January 1.—(AP)—

Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, tonight characterized as an "unwarranted intrusion" of the scientific meeting the paper suggesting a revision of the concept of God which was read before a sectional meeting Saturday by Dr. Harry E. Barnes of Smith college. Dr. Barnes' talk was on the subject, "Science Versus Religion as a Guide to Life," and was made before the joint session of the History of Science Society and Medical Sciences. At the closing general session of the association tonight Dr. Osborn, the platform alluded to Dr. Barnes' talk, and after the meeting gave the press the following statement:

"This is the scientific meeting, and science has to do with what can be understood by weighing, measuring and analysis of the universe, and it covers the whole realm of what can be estimated and understood. It stops there."

"Dr. Barnes took an unwarranted step in introducing a metaphysical, philosophical and religious subject. It was an unwarranted intrusion. He took advantage of this great platform of the American Association for the Advancement of Science to give expression to his own opinion on a subject that was totally unrelated to the subjects under discussion."

"As president I desire to have the public understand that Dr. Barnes' statements do not reflect in any way the program of our meeting. They were calculated to give a wrong impression."

Crawford was killed almost instantly while Mrs. Payne died several hours later as the result of the collision between a gasoline truck of the Gulf Refining company driven by D. C. Banks, of East Point, and a bus operated by J. H. Green. The heavy sedan driven by Green was damaged badly. The skidding of the truck on the slippery road was blamed for the crash.

HOOVERS ABOARD SHIP HOLD MOCK RECEPTION

U. S. S. Utah, January 1.—(AP)—

Save for a mock white house reception, New Year's day passed aboard this battleship, carrying President-elect Hoover, much as any other day during the cruise from Rio Janeiro toward Hampton Roads.

Mr. Hoover, Mrs. Hoover and Ambassador Fletcher were in the receiving line on the upper deck at the "reception," and they as well as officers and passengers were much amused at costumes worn by those impersonating the justices of the supreme court, the diplomatic corps, the army, the navy, Tammany hall, the W. C. T. U., the G. A. R. and Sandino, the Nicaraguan chief who has given the marines so much trouble.

The Utah rolled along at a little more than 15 knots with brisk trade winds kicking up a sea which gave her a decided but gradual rocking from side to side.

Late this afternoon the good-will ship was due east of Porto Rico and 1,700 miles from Hampton Roads, which will be reached at 8 a. m. Sunday unless stormy weather is encountered.

There were showers early this morning, soon after the Hoovers arose and a brilliant rainbow stretched from horizon to horizon off the port bow. The rain was succeeded by clear skies and the tropical sun bent down toward the ship.

The president-elect had his usual nap after luncheon, while Mrs. Hoover operated a portable motion picture machine on various parts of the ship. She took a number of pictures with spray breaking over the bow and of players in a deck tennis tournament. The sea was deep blue dotted by numerous whitecaps.

Few members of the Hoover party escaped drenching during the day as seas broke over the bow and at times even heavy spray over the quarters.

DITCH BARES BODY OF KIDNAPED GIRL

tacks, was taken into custody for questioning.

He claimed an alibi, detectives announced, which in some parts was shaky.

June's little sister, Betty, 5, who claimed she had seen June's kidnaper, was sent for in an attempt to identify Perry.

Another clue which police had hoped would lead to the man who strangled June and threw her body into the ditch collapsed at the outset of the investigation.

When the body was found June's shoes and stockings were missing. In an abandoned automobile nearby police found a pair of child's shoes. The machine belonged to a Magna man.

The shoes turned out not to be June's and he established an alibi. An autopsy performed after the child's body was found disclosed the manner of death and the fact that the girl had been mistreated before being killed.

The automobile was found near the ditch and its owner was sought by police.

June and a younger sister, Betty, 5, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Nelson, left home Monday evening on an errand to a neighborhood store.

June's father searched the neighborhood all night and this morning, during the night he passed the ditch where the body was found. He said he was certain the body was not there Monday night. It apparently had been thrown from an automobile about daylight, it was indicated.

Orville, Ohio, January 1.—(United News.)—Most able-bodied men in Orville spent New Year's day seeking missing Horst, 4, who has been missing for five days, and it was arranged that the town fire alarm should be sounded if trace were found of him.

It is feared that the boy was struck by a motorist, who buried the body.

Mrs. John D. Walker Visits Husband To Aid Court Fight

Macon, Ga., January 1.—(AP)—Mrs.

John D. Walker, of New York, arrived here tonight to visit her husband, the former Georgia banker, at the Bibb county jail, where he is held on a federal charge of embezzlement.

The wife of the indicted man was accompanied here from Atlanta by Mrs. Zenella Miller, Mr. Walker's sister. Together they made their way—or rather rushed, Mrs. Walker was so anxious—to the courthouse elevator, and to the jail.

Mrs. Walker told of her life with her husband during the years they lived in practical exile, and how he toward Mr. Walker the way I do—a man could be. She was waiting for Jailer Tom McCommon to arrange the visit.

The woman appeared strikingly attractive.

"I have two children, you know," she said; "one is Jack, he's 23; the other is my grown girl, 20. They feel toward Mr. Walker the way I do—and you know that's unusual for a stepfather."

"He's been everything in the world to us, so self-sacrificing, so wonderful, so—"

She was at a loss for words, and smiled.

"We never did know," Mrs. Walker went on. "We lived in Honolulu a while—plain John D. Walker—and then we lived for a while in Texas. He never denied it would end like this. Oh, I know he will be proven innocent."

Mrs. Walker was the mainstay of the family at their Long Island, N. Y., home before Walker was captured, it has been brought out. Developing a talent for cookery, she launched a cake-making concern with some success. Her lack of money still hampers the family.

"MAJOR" OWENS, 38, MIDGET NEWSBOY, KILLED BY AUTO

Birmingham, Ala., January 1.—(AP)—"Major" Owens, 38, a midget newsie, was killed by a car and a fatal figure to downtown Birmingham for years, was dead today, the new year's first accident victim here.

Owens was struck by an automobile early today while the night's celebration was at its height and traffic rules lax. William Chandler, Birmingham, was arrested as driver of the car and later released under $300 bond.

Newsies of Birmingham at noon had almost completed a fund to defray burial expenses in order that "Major" might escape poverty's field.

ANSWERS DISTRESS SIGNAL BUT FAILS TO FIND VESSEL

Tokyo, January 1.—(AP)—Replying to a distress signal from the S. S. Toyotomi Maru, the naval station at Sasebo dispatched a destroyer to the aid of the vessel but the latter was unable to discover any trace of her.

Four members of the crew were picked up. It was feared that the other persons aboard had been drowned.

The Toyotomi Maru was formerly known as the Benledi. She was built in Glasgow in 1888, had a gross tonnage of 2,238 and was 309 feet long.

BOMB WRECKS HOME OF ITALIAN BANKER IN DETROIT, MICH.

Detroit, January 1.—(AP)—The family of Vincent Giuliano, Italian banker and newspaper publisher, escaped injury early today when a bomb blew out one side of the house, wrecked the basement and broke all the windows on the first two floors.

Police could assign no motive for the bombing, but recalled that Giuliano was a defense witness recently in the trial of an Italian acquitted of the shooting of another Italian in a Columbus Day parade here. The shooting was the result of fascist and anti-fascist friction, the police said.

Giuliano is the president of a bank bearing his name and is the publisher of the Italian Tribune of America.

ROOSEVELT LAUDS 'AL' AT INAUGURAL

Relief to Farmers Stressed by New Governor; Smith Quits After 25 Years.

Albany, N. Y., January 1.—(AP)—A new governor of New York—Franklin Delano Roosevelt—was inaugurated today amid the plaudits of an enthusiastic crowd which filled the assembly chamber in the state capitol.

A demonstration equally as enthusiastic was given to his predecessor, Alfred E. Smith, who today reentered private life after a quarter century in public service.

A departure from the ancient ritual of inaugurations in Albany was made when the retiring governor introduced his successor immediately after the latter had subscribed to the oath of office.

In his speech of introduction, which was made in the nature of a farewell to the public, former Governor Smith sketched the growth of the state's activities during the 25 years he had been a part of the state government.

"I am turning the government over to you—not perfect, no human institution reaches perfection, but as good as it can be made," Mr. Smith said. He added that the state officials, by their cooperation, were responsible for about 90 per cent of the state's progress.

Pleds for Cooperation.

Governor Roosevelt in his inaugural address pleaded for the cooperation of the citizenry of the state in helping him reach a solution of the problems confronting the government.

Among the problems he mentioned were the question of water power, simplification of court procedure and improvement in the condition of the farmer.

Except for the address by the retiring governor, the inaugural ceremonies followed closely the procedure of many years' standing. At the instant the oath of office was administered a battery boomed out the governor's salute of 17 guns.

Nearly everyone lined in the democratic "Who's who" attended the inauguration.

Through an oversight, no provision was made for the seating in the inaugural chamber of the state senate. Promptly according to the time schedule, the 51 senators, marshaled by the sergeant-at-arms, entered the chamber, marched gravely down the center aisle and up the platform stairs, only to learn that there were no seats. Without a pause the parade of the solons continued through a door in the rear of the platform, out of the chamber.

Parade Over Snow.

The military parade that preceded the inaugural and which acted as an escort for former Governor Smith and Governor Roosevelt from the executive mansion to the capitol was over-snow-covered streets. The first snow storm of the season began a few hours before the ceremonies.

New York, January 1.—(AP)—Alfred E. Smith, until today governor of New York state, arrived tonight from Albany and was greeted at the Grand Central terminal by several hundred persons.

A band played "The Sidewalks of New York," as the governor passed through the terminal between lines of soldiers to the entrance of the Elmhurst hotel, where he has maintained headquarters on visits to New York during his term as governor.

NEIL BASS ELECTED KNOXVILLE MANAGER

Knoxville, Tenn., January 1.—(AP)—Neil Bass, former chief engineer and commissioner of the state department of highways and public works, was elected city manager of Knoxville tonight. He succeeds Otto Roehl, business leader of the city, who had held the office for fourteen months. The salary is $10,000 per annum.

In all the so-called "bargains" now offered in "sale clothing" we have not once seen dependable Kibler & Long Quality and smart style equaled at the year-round low Kibler & Long prices.

Take this "sale" business with a grain of salt. You can't get something for nothing. Common sense tells us there's only one reason for genuine price reduction on good clothing—to clean up the old, out-of-date, left-over styles. Such clothes are high at any price.

No sales—but "marked down" prices the year 'round is the Kibler & Long Policy.

High Museum Centers City's Cultural Life.

With an attendance record of 16,295 visitors in 10 months of operation, the High Museum of Art is rapidly reaching an important position in Atlanta's cultural life. Five thousand and one hundred and eleven children attended the free Saturday classes in art, sponsored by the Atlanta Art association, during 1928, and 2,510 attended the lectures on art appreciation. Eighteen different organizations and schools took advantage of the art lecture program attending the museum twice a month for this activity. Many valuable gifts and loans were received during the year, greatly supplementing the museum's collection. Noteworthy among the gifts presented was a collection of fine reproductions of Greek sculpture and Renaissance armor by Mrs. Joseph Madison High. Among the loans are five water colors by E. Guerin and a pastel sketch by Abel Pann lent by Caroline Greenfield, a bronze portrait bust by John Flanagan, American sculptor, and a water color sketch by Auguste Rodin, lent by J. J. Haverly. The purchase of a Sully portrait by the association and much needed equipment completed the year's program of acquisitions. Jonas Lie's exhibition of paintings will open the winter season at the High Museum with a reception and tea Friday afternoon, January 4, for members of the Atlanta Art association only. Jonas Lie's paintings have created wide interest wherever shown and many of his canvases repose in the collection of Atlanta art patrons.

Miss Tierce Weds Emmett W. Daniel At Quiet Ceremony

Cordial interest centers in the marriage of Miss Helen Tierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tierce, to Emmett W. Daniel, of Atlanta, son of Mrs. J. B. Daniel, of Thomasville. The marriage was solemnized Monday evening at the home of the Rev. F. C. McConnell, 1020 Ponce de Leon avenue, in the presence of a representative gathering of relatives and friends. Dr. McConnell performed the impressive ring ceremony.

Miss Tierce was gown in a smart model of dark blue georgette fashioned with close fitting bodice and graceful skirt of uneven hemline. A feature of the dress was the V yoke of cream lace. Her flowers formed a handsome corsage of pink rosebuds and valley lilies.

Mrs. J. W. Tierce, mother of the bride, wore a model of dark blue georgette, fashioned along straight lines. The young couple will make their home on North Jackson street, following a wedding trip which they have planned to take at a later date. Miss Tierce is a popular member of the young set of Atlanta. Mr. Daniel is well known here in business and social circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Are Party Hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Glenn entertained Tuesday afternoon at the Piedmont Driving club from 4 to 6 o'clock. The spacious ballroom of the club was decorated for the occasion with garlands of smiles, which were hung over the windows, doorways and entwined about the white columns down the entire length of the room. Palms and ferns banked the side walls and formed a bower in front of the fireplace, where Mr. and Mrs. Glenn received their guests. Interspersed amid the greenery were tall floor baskets filled with pink roses and trailing vines of feathery fern.

The exquisitely appointed tea table at the far end of the room was overlaid with an imported lace cloth and held in the center a plateau of pink and lavender sweet peas and pink Columbia roses bordered with valley lilies and ferns. Placed at artistic intervals were long, slender pink tapers in silver candleholders, and the dainty color scheme of pink and lavender was carried out in every detail.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn were assisted in receiving by their sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nettler Francke, of Saginaw, Mich., who are spending a few days during the holidays in Atlanta.

Assisting in entertaining were a group of prominent members of the social set, including Mrs. John N. Goddard, Mrs. Robert Foster Maddox, Sr., Mrs. Hugh Richardson, Mrs. James L. Hickey, Mrs. William Healey, Mrs. Howard Candler, Mrs. John E. Murphy, Mrs. Charles T. Nunnally, Mrs. Bulow Campbell, Mrs. Dudley Cowles and Mrs. James D. Robinson.

During the afternoon musical selections were rendered by an orchestra concealed behind a screen of palms and ferns.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

REDDY SOLVES THE MYSTERY.
By Thornton W. Burgess.

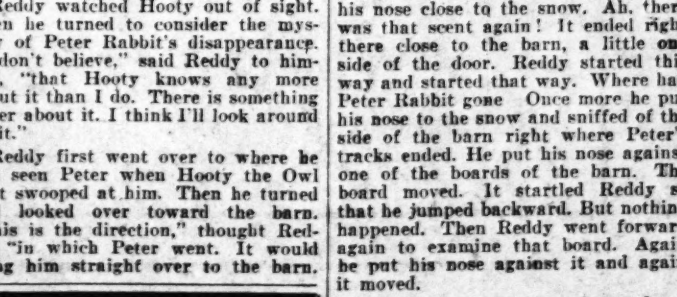

Mysteries are always queer. Until solution makes them clear. —Reddy Fox.

Hooty the Owl isn't much given to curiosity. He had quite by accident discovered Peter Rabbit in Farmer Brown's dooryard. He had almost caught Peter. It was a bright moonlight night, just such a kind of night as Hooty loves for hunting. Peter had dodged and dodged again and then run straight for Farmer Brown's barn. There, just as Hooty was reaching for him with those great claws of his, Peter had mysteriously disappeared. It had seemed to Hooty as if Peter had vanished right through the solid wall of the barn. He had flown up on the little house of Bowser the Hound to think it over and there he had been found by Reddy Fox. You know, Reddy had been lying in wait for Peter.

Not for the world would Hooty have let Reddy know that he was puzzled by Peter's disappearance. All he would tell Reddy was that Peter had disappeared. Then, because he was hungry, and because he does not believe in sitting around worrying over disappointments, Hooty abruptly spread his great wings and flew away in the direction of the Green Forest. He flew directly over Reddy Fox, yet Reddy could hear no sound of those great wings. You know, Hooty is one of the few birds that can fly silently.

Reddy watched Hooty out of sight. Then he turned to consider the mystery of Peter Rabbit's disappearance. "I don't believe," said Reddy to himself, "that Hooty knows any more about it than I do. There is something queer about it. I think I'll look around a bit."

Reddy first went over to where he had seen Peter when Hooty the Owl first swooped at him. Then he turned and looked over toward the barn. "This is the direction," thought Reddy, "in which Peter went. It would bring him straight over to the barn."

Reddy stepped back and sat down and stared very hard at that board. His nose close to the snow. Ah, there was that scent again! It ended right there close to the barn. A little one side of the door. Reddy started this way and started that way. Where had Peter Rabbit gone. Once more he put his nose to the snow and sniffed of the side of the barn right where Peter's tracks ended. He put his nose against one of the boards of the barn. The board moved. It started! Reddy no that he jumped backward. But nothing happened. Then Reddy went forward again to examine that board. Again he put his nose against it and again it moved.

Reddy stepped back and sat down and stared very hard at that board. He had discovered what had become of Peter Rabbit. Peter was inside the barn. Yes, sir, that is where Peter was. That board that moved was nothing but a little light door that swung either way. It had been made for Black Pussy the Cat to do in and out of the barn. Somehow Peter Rabbit had discovered it, or had known it, and when Hooty had swooped at him, he had darted through into the barn, pushing that little swinging door open. To make sure, Reddy went over and pushed. The little door swung back, but the opening wasn't big enough for Reddy to pass through. He couldn't follow Peter into the barn.

Smithies Defeat Florida Champions, 2 to 0, in Tampa Game

Mott Stars In Southern Title Game

Bad Pass From Center Gives Tech High Safety in Third Quarter.

Tampa, Fla., January 1.—(AP)—Taking advantage of numerous fumbles and making a "break" good, the football team representing Tech High, of Atlanta, defeated the Hillsborough (Tampa) High eleven by the score of 2 to 0 here today, before a crowd estimated at 5,000, for the southern prep title.

The Atlanta team, champion of Georgia and Atlanta high schools, proved to be an alert, snappy aggregation and frequently outplayed the Tampa combination. Mott, all-Georgia back, justified his advance notices and proved to be the main cog of the visiting machine. Ira Vess, all-state end, also deserved much credit for breaking through the Hillsborough line late in the game and blocking a kick by Tony Canela, Terrier backfield star. "Mott" was especially good in returning punts.

Lines Held Goals.
Both lines were when their goal lines were threatened—Hillsborough twice and Tech High once. Hillsborough was on the defensive a greater part of the time and the ball was in the Florida team's territory during a large part of the game. Canela came late in the third period. The Hillsborough forwards had stopped the Smithies backs inside the Terriers' territory. Tech High punter and Canela was dropped in his tracks when he caught the ball on his own five-yard marker. On the next play he dropped back behind the goal line for a punt. The pass from center was so far over his head that he failed to touch it by jumping into the air. With the Smithies in hot pursuit he raced back among a crowd of boys standing well back from the field, Canela fell on the ball and half a dozen pursuers piled over him.

Straight Football.
For the most part it was straight football. Until the final period few forward passes or open plays were attempted. Tech Hillsborough began an aerial bombardment, but the ball changed sides frequently. Just before the game ended the Smithies started an unsuccessful aerial effort. Penalties were numerous.

Weather conditions were not the best for the game. The sky was partly overcast but the sun was strong enough to penetrate through the haze and bring perspiration to the heavily clothed griders. During the second period, a shower of spectators who flocked around the field, sought for cover. Several of them fled across the gridiron, only to be stopped by a squad of police and escorted off the field. Among the crowd were Coach A. A. Stagg, from the University of Chicago; Coach Charles Bachman, of the University of Florida; Captain Everett Yon, U. S. A. director of athletics at the state university, and a score or more of state high school men, including Ray Dickson, of Andrew Jackson, Jacksonville.

Canela Smothered.
The game was far from spectacular. Neither team opened up, but kept strictly to line plunges or end runs until late in the game. Tony Canela, from whom much was expected by Tampa backers in the way of distance running, seemed to be smothered by the Smithies almost every time he carried the ball. His longest run was for only 13 yards early in the game. Punting, too, came in for a great deal of play, with Mott having the better of the argument. The contenders were about equal in weight but were different in other respects. The Tech team was composed of tall, rangy players, while the Terriers ran to short, squat boys.

One reason given for the lack of teamwork of the Tampa team was that three regulars were out of the line because of illness. Substitutes were used at both ends and in one other line position.

Tech High Starts.
The Smithies wasted no time in their drive on the goal line after the starting whistle. Mott returned the kick-off 15 yards. Hillsborough got the ball on a punt and returned for 18 yards. Regaining the pigskin the Atlantans resumed their dash, making three first downs. The Tampa line strengthened on their 11-yard line and got the ball on downs. Two punts and an eight-yard run put the ball at the other end of the field. Hillsborough made a bid for a score in the second period. Recovering a Tech fumble at the out for they carried the ball to Tech's seven-yard line, where Tech held and got the ball on downs. Mott, and Chandler, who went in for Hadley, worked the ball back into enemy territory but the half ended before the goal was in sight. Mott broke loose for 30 yards at the opening of the third period but was penalized 15 yards for holding. He then intercepted Canela's pass and the Tech backs made two first

Florida Star Hurt In Auto Crash

Tampa, Fla., January 1.—(AP)—Tommy Owen, alternate captain of the 1928 Florida football team was in a hospital tonight suffering from a smashed collarbone, received in an automobile accident. The Gator star was injured just north of Brooksville while on the way here to witness the Tech Hillsborough football game. With him at the time were Coach Charles Bachman, of the State university, and Captain Everett Yon, director of Athletics at the Gainesville school. Bachman said the machine skidded and sideswiped a fence, throwing Owen out on his head. The injury is not expected to prove serious.

downs before the opposition halted them. Canela took Tech's punt but was stopped five yards from his goal.

Pass Is Poor.
When he dropped behind his goal for a punt the pass from center sailed over his head and he was downed before a pass was grounded and the passes interspersed with line plunging. In the final period Hillsborough gained 40 yards on two passes and two line plays. Then they lost 20 of it on an attempted pass and fumble. Vess, of Georgia, broke through the Terrier line and blocked a punt. The Smithies made four yards through the line but were penalized five. Smith intercepted Mott's pass on the Hillsborough 11-yard line. The locals made 17 yards on plunges before a pass was grounded and the ball changed hands. Tech failed to gain and the ball went over. The Terrier backs tried four passes without success and it was Tech's ball. Chandler had gained four yards on two lunges when the final whistle blew.

Southern Plays Miami U. to Tie

Miami, Fla., January 1.—(AP)—Southern college Moccasins and the University of Miami Hurricanes fought through a well played 13-to-13 tie here today before a big New Year's crowd. The visitors, although outplaying Miami most of the time on straight football, fumbled at crucial moments and gave the Hurricanes chances to score.

Southern started two minutes after the game started when Murrell intercepted a pass and raced 50 yards for the score. Miami scores a few minutes later when Courtney heaved a long pass to Wilkinson, over the goal line. Following Miami's score, Reese and Baldwin, Southern's star backs, carried the ball 70 yards for a touchdown, and were within a foot of another when the half ended. Miami came back strong in the third quarter and pushed into Southern territory. A fumble by Baldwin was picked up by Solie, Miami guard, who raced 40 yards for a touchdown. Ashman kicked goal to tie the score. Miami had a big chance in the late minutes when Ashman intercepted a pass and ran 34 yards before being downed on the Southern three-yard line. Southern held and Murrell punted out.

Miami tried again, Downes booting a long place kick which hit the crossbar.

Mike Firpo Wins In Florida Bout

St. Petersburg, Fla., January 1.—(AP)—Mike Firpo, husky, light heavyweight from Havana, scored a technical knockout over "Len" Herring of Pensacola, in the feature event of the American Legion's boxing program here tonight. The bout was halted after Herring had spent most of the time on the canvas, a final blow opening a wide gash over Herring's left eye. Firpo weighed 175, Herring 178.

Fight Is Draw.
Newcastle, Pa., January 1.—(AP)—Henry Firpo, of Louisville, Ky., and Jack Dillon, of Nashville, Tenn., fought a ten-round draw here today. Dillon was outfought and outboxed by Firpo but a Nashville boy was clever at fighting.

Auburn Alumni Bows to Boys From Alabama at Montgomery, 6-0.

Montgomery, Ala., January 1.—(AP)—Alumni defeated Auburn alumni 6 to 0 today in a charity game that marked the first meeting of football teams composed of players representing the two state institutions since athletic relations were severed because of intense feeling in 1907. Jimmie Johnson, Alabama back, who scored the touchdown to tie Stanford in the tournament of roses game three years ago, scored the winning marker for the Crimson and White alumni in the first quarter. J. H. Ford, Auburn back, in the second period carried the ball over Alabama's goal line in the second period, but fumbled and the Crimson recovered to carry the ball to the 10-yard line.

"Moon" Ducote, Auburn star of '16 and '17, and John Shirey, captain of the Auburn team in 1923, starred for the Plainsmen while Poolley Hubert and Johnson played a brilliant game for the Alabama alumni.

The game was marked by excellent sportsmanship, not single penalty being called for roughing or offside. The game, sponsored by the local junior chamber of commerce, according to officials of the organization, was a step toward bringing the schools back to their in the gridiron.

JUDGE FUCHS IS SUMMONED IN BOSTON ROW

Boston, January 1.—(AP)—Interest in the controversy that has raged around the Sunday baseball question since Charles F. Adams, vice president of the Boston Braves, intimated that he had been approached by a city councillor for a bribe to insure passage of an enabling act, was heightened today when the announcement that in addition to Adams, the city finance commission has summoned Emil Fuchs, president of the club. They will be heard tomorrow.

In the meantime the council by a unanimous vote had tabled an application by the club for permission to play Sunday ball.

Other developments came yesterday. Thomas H. Green, president of the council, who has accepted responsibility for having called a special meeting of that body in an unsuccessful attempt to obtain passage of the measure, admitted that he had sent the notices out from the hotel room of Edward Cunningham, secretary of the Braves.

He explained he had happened to reach a decision on the matter and mentioned it to Cunningham who volunteered the name of his typewriter. He denied that either Fuchs or Adams was present at the time.

The second development was the filing with the house of representatives of a bill to take from the city council all power to issue permits for Sunday professional sports. Instead the bill proposes a commission consisting of the mayor, the police commissioner and the chief justice of the municipal court.

The Sunday sports bill was finally approved by council at recent session by a unanimous vote after action had several times been delayed.

BAN JOHNSON PANS HEYDLE'S TEN-MAN TEAM

St. Louis, January 1.—(AP)—Ban Johnson, retired president of the American league, is opposed to John Heydler's plan for 10-man baseball teams.

"The ten-man team idea does not appeal to me at all," he said. "It destroys the original thought in baseball of a team of nine men, and of each man being an athlete and a ball player who bats and runs and throws."

"I would suggest that instead of a 10-man team a rule be provided limiting the number of number of substitutes he may use," he said.

Johnson expressed opposition to the "chain store" or "farm" system, whereby major league clubs own and operate minor league teams, declaring that the system "is detrimental to the best interests of the game."

On the flamingo team were William Post II and Leonard Firestone, Princeton students; Ted Law, a pupil of an eastern preparatory school, and Raymond Firestone, who is wintering here with his family.

Florida Starts Cage Practice

Gainesville, Fla., January 1.—(AP)—Florida's basketball hopes for 1929 started off the new year with a dual workout today.

Coach Brady Cowell had a squad of 18 players, all being on hand save Eddie Felson, a guard.

The Gators leave Thursday for Athens, Ga., where they meet the University of Georgia Friday and Saturday in the season's opening contest.

Ben Clemons and Billy Salser, forwards; Frank Clark, center, and Dale Waters and Merle North, guards, seem to be the strongest combination of the current training season.

Riegels Star Despite Play, States Pund

Tech Captain Lauds Opposition; Declares Jacket Line-men Real Heroes.

BY PETER PUND.
Pasadena, Calif., January 1.—(Special).—The game is over and believe me there was some tall celebrating tonight. A single point represents, to my mind, the difference in the two teams. California certainly has a wonderful team, and never have I played against a bunch that hit you so hard and so consistently. The end of the game found them pounding away just as hard as in the first quarter. Lom, the great halfback for California, was everything that he was supposed to be. Fast, shifty and a very good broken field runner, he went off tackle time and again for good gains. Schmidt, Barr and Kisan gave him good interference. His passes, too, were very accurate and Avery and Phillips were down the field where they were supposed to be, and though surrounded and covered by the Tech secondary, they seemed to catch them regardless. On defense, too, these boys were right in the thick of it. Once or twice during the game we caught them in a bit too close, and our wing back cutting them in, gave Mizell and Stumpy a chance to get away on some nice, long gains with perfect interference.

Bancroft Is Lauded.

Bancroft, the all-American tackle of California, played a very good game and not so often did our offense pierce his side of the line. Their guards seemed a bit weak, but Roy Riegels, the center who ran a fumbled yard for us, was plenty good, light but scrappy. He played a whale of a game and though some ground was made over him, it was not entirely his fault. To pick the outstanding men, from the field is a hard job, and when you have your head between your legs most of the time. The whole California team played up to everything that was expected of them, a good, clean, hard, heady football game.

Two other developments came yesterday. Thomas H. Green, president of the council, who has accepted responsibility for having called a special meeting of that body in an unsuccessful attempt to obtain passage of the measure, admitted that he had sent the notices out from the hotel room of Edward Cunningham, secretary of the Braves.

Richard Murphy Wins in Singles

Baltimore, January 1.—(AP)—Richard Murphy, of Utica, N. Y., won the national junior indoor singles tennis championship today, defeating Frank Shore, of Washington. The score of the final match was 6-1, 6-2, 6-2. Murphy continued the spectacular play which has marked his progress through the tournament and his steady stroking game completely outclassed Shore, although the Washington player was displaying his best efforts.

Murphy was to play also in the doubles final this afternoon, in which he and Samuel Hayes, New York state youth, were matched against Billy Jacobs, of Baltimore, and Richard Covington, of Philadelphia.

The boy's championship was won by Kendall H. Cram, of Nashville, Tenn., who defeated Walter Rothchild, of New York, in the final match of that division yesterday.

Palmo Is Victor.

Hamilton, Ohio, January 1.—(AP)—Frankie Palmo, Cincinnati welterweight, knocked out K. O. Leonard, Nashville, Tenn., in the second round of their ten-round bout here today.

Georgian Has Narrow Escape in Fight at Kansas City; End Is Quick.

Kansas City, January 1.—(AP)—After taking a count of four when he was knocked down by Jack League, Texas heavyweight, W. L. (Young) Stribling, of Georgia, bounded to his feet and knocked out the Texan with a right cross to the jaw in the first round of their scheduled ten-round bout here tonight.

The bout was to be the last for Stribling until he meets Jack Sharkey in Miami, Fla., in February, as part of Tex Richard's elimination program to find a wearer for the heavyweight crown relinquished by Gene Tunney.

The blow that spelled doom for League was the third knockdown punch in two minutes of fighting. Stribling having sent League to the canvas before finishing him, following a clinch in a corner. Several right jabs while in the clinch made League groggy.

Stribling weighed 188 pounds and League 196.

Ted Morgan Wins.

Orlando, Fla., January 1.—(AP)—Tommy Jones, Tampa 145-pounder, knocked out Ted Morgan, St. Petersburg, in the second round of a 10-round battle here tonight.

Rockne Denies He Will Coach At Ohio State

Notre Dame Mentor Declares He Is Binding Self by 4-Year Contract.

Columbus, Ohio, January 1.—(AP)—The Ohio State Journal tomorrow will say that Knute Rockne will remain as football coach at Notre Dame university and is not open to a proposition to coach Ohio State's football team next fall as successor to J. W. Wiley, resigned.

Quoting a correspondent who journeyed to South Bend, Ind., for an interview with the famous coach, the Journal will say that Rockne plans to hold himself to his contract, which has four years to run.

"I have not been offered the Ohio State job," the paper quotes Rockne as saying. "Although I had a conference with L. W. St. John, his athletic director, at New Orleans last week. However, he conferred with a dozen coaches."

"I would rather not comment on the athletic situation at Ohio State except to say it presents a great opportunity for some coach, whoever is chosen."

Mike O'Dowd Wins.
